LUCKY GIRL

Cut from five pages ago

They work for me in every season. I also have peep-toe Rochas sandals that I would wear every day if I could. I am lost when they are at [New York City shoe repair shop] Leather Spa getting rehabilitated. And stripes of any kind—I can wear them with anything. I have striped tees, tanks, sweaters and button-downs—they make excellent layering pieces.

Q: How has your style evolved in the last few years?

A: My style is something that I am always working on. In recent years I have become more refined. I'm trying to dress like more of a lady because my instinct sometimes always trended a youthful/vibe mixed with masculine accents. I like to be challenged and it's important to try new things. I never want to be predictable. I even bought a kitten heel last season!

Q: What's your signature look?

A: The most obvious thing about me is probably my hair. As much as I love it, it's a lot of maintenance. And you never know when I might change it up. I've always said five truck red is a possibility.
